Managed Services

Nor-Cal Controls offers on-going SCADA system support programs that utilize our teams' knowledge and experience in a more proactive approach. Two levels of support ensure your systems perform on a consistent level.

Nor-Cal's SCADA Support Services

These services allow end users to utilize Nor-Cal's dedicated team of experienced and knowledgeable engineers through a more proactive approach. Our team will have secure access to the operational system and will be readily available for any support or troubleshooting needs that arise through day-to-day operations.

Remote Support Services include:

- HMI Modifications and control tuning enhancements
- General troubleshooting and support for all devices connected to a local SCADA system and network
- Investigating networking and communication issues
- Dispatchable on-site field technician support available as needed upon customer request

Nor-Cal Controls will ensure your systems have the support they need to perform efficiently on a consistent basis.
